SOUTH CAROLINA AND VERMONT GO TO NEW YORKER

Governor's Total Mounts to 428 as South and East Give Assurance of Unqualified Support at Chicago Convention.

SIX IN DISTRICT WILL GO PLEDGED

Green Mountain State Declares for Repeal and Urges Immediate Legalized Light Wines.

By the Associated Press.

Franklin D. Roosevelt gathered in 32 more delegates from the east and south yesterday and raised his total convention vote for the democratic presidential nomination to 428.

The New York governor captured 18 unpledged but claimed delegates in South Carolina, 8 unanimously favoring him from Vermont, and 6 pledged votes in a District of Columbia primary.

Counting 100 from New York and Pennsylvania already selected and which his managers expect him to get at Chicago, the 32 gained yesterday would bring Roosevelt's majority strength to within 50 of a majority. However, two-thirds, or 770, will be needed for a nomination.

In the only other delegate selection yesterday, President Hoover won 19 pledged delegates from Alabama and 9 unpledged but claimed votes from Vermont, while the Democrats there declared for repeal and light wines and beer pending repeal.

A small vote was cast in the District of Columbia democratic primary as there was no contest over delegates. It was described by John F. Costello, re-elected national committeeman, as a compromise delegation which will vote for Roosevelt under the unit rule until a majority decides to go to some other candidate.

Vermont republicans came out for resubmission of prohibition before the end of next year, while the Democrats there declared for repeal and light wines and beer pending repeal.

South Carolina democrats defeated a referendum proposal, but adopted a resolution urging a campaign on "economic issues" alone by the closest vote the party has come to challenging prohibition since its enactment.

Of the 24 democratic convention delegations so far to act on prohibition 12 have favored repeal or resubmission by various methods, five have voted for enforcement or deferred vote proposals, and seven have made no mention of the subject.

Six of the 30 republican delegations favor repeal or resubmission; 10 voted for or rejected wet planks, and 17 ignored the question.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S 18 GO TO NEW YORKER

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 18.—(AP)—South Carolina democrats in convention here today voted to send an unpledged delegation to the national convention. The state's 18 votes, however, apparently are as good as in the columns of Franklin D. Roosevelt, for the New York governor was given an enthusiastic endorsement.

The delegation will vote as a unit at Chicago.

After two hours of agitation, a resolution asking a referendum on prohibition failed of passage. Instead, a substitute measure sponsored by former Governor John G. Richards, ardent dry, was adopted, calling on the party to go into the national campaign this year "on economic issues" alone.

The vote was 171 to 143, the closest the state party has come to challenging prohibition since its enactment.

Mrs. L. H. Jennings, of Columbia, was re-elected national committeewoman, and Governor Ibra C. Blackwood was elected national committeeman, succeeding former Governor Richards. Claude N. Sapp, Columbia attorney.

New Orleans Drenched With 8.1 Inch Rainfall

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(AP)—High winds swept New Orleans today as a two-day rain showed signs of slackening after a precipitation of more than 8 inches.

The official weather bureau gauge showed an 8.1-inch reading for the 48-hour period ended at noon.

Although the intermittent showers continued this morning, streets flooded by yesterday's 5-inch rainfall were rapidly draining. Street car service was also resumed on all lines after suspensions of yesterday due to submerged tracks.

ROOSEVELT VOICES RENEWED APPEAL FOR AVERAGE MAN

Kiwanians Hear Governor Plead Cause of "Forgotten Man;" Leadership Lauded by Russell.

By Walter T. Brown.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., May 18.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today drew upon words of Thomas Jefferson to phrase a plea for the "forgotten man" whom he designated in another speech a month ago as the small home owner and farmer not provided for in the administration's economic rehabilitation plans.

Addressing a meeting of Kiwanians, Mr. Roosevelt took his theme from a quotation in a Jefferson letter written July 4, 1820, two days before the former president died. It was "The mass of mankind was not born with saddles on their backs, nor were the favored few born upon horses, and spurring ready to ride mankind either legitimately or by the grace of God."

"I think this is just as true today," Roosevelt said. "The mass of mankind was not born with saddles on their backs. They can have them removed by the right kind of outlook on government."

"Nobody wants the government to assume more functions, except the government can not let people starve and suffer. We shall enter upon a period of co-operative prosperity and by practice of the second commandment, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself,' we shall know the way."

In his "forgotten man" speech a month ago Roosevelt drew a response from the republicans. A leader of the anti-Roosevelt movement, W. G. Breidenbach, of Fort Valley, of the sixth district.

Other resolutions advocated that the association back the amendment in the November elections for reimbursement to counties of funds advanced to the state; that the association go on record as urging the state highway board to use convicts in road construction labor; that the association request amendments to the state legislature to enact laws which will increase the

3D PARTY WARNING VOICED BY BORAH

Senator Hints at Revolt If Parties Refuse to Provide Jobless Aid.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Warning of a possible third party movement unless congress enacts an unemployment relief program before the party conventions was sounded in the senate today by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho.

He said he could not conceive of the two great parties going to their conventions without having adopted a program for relieving the jobless.

"If anything would call a third party into existence that would," he declared.

Senator Watson, the republican leader, promptly gave his personal assurance that the legislative program contemplated relief legislation.

Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, interposed to demand further assurance that the farmers in meeting their mortgages.

Watson said the relief program was being worked out.

Following a discussion during debate on the Tydings amendment to the tax bill to legalize and tax 2.75 per cent beer and use the proceeds for public works.

Borah asked if this was intended to take the place of the program presented last week by Senator Robinson, democratic leader, for a $2,000,000,000 bond issue.

Senator Tydings, democrat, Maryland, pointed out his amendment had been offered long before Robinson's program was presented, but said he did not believe the other plan would be necessary if his was adopted.

The Marylander said if his plan should be rejected, no other relief plan could be enacted before congress recessed for the conventions.

Meanwhile, on the house side of the capitol, Speaker Garner and Representative Snell, the republican leader, told newspapermen the house would not adjourn or recess until the tax bill, appropriations bill, economy bills are passed, "conventions or no conventions."

Planned as a convention to discuss openly "extravagance in government," the meeting will assemble many of the members of the organization, will call to order and Dr. L. R. Christie, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church, will give the invocation. Mayor James L. Key will extend a welcome to the visitors and Stuart W. Cramer, of Crumrine, N. C., will respond.

Following the annual president's address Dr. Melvin T. Copeland, president of the Harvard School of Business Research, will speak on "The Marketing and Distribution of Cotton Textiles." He is the author of a number of books on manufacture and distribution of cotton goods.

Friday afternoon the discussion will be led by R. E. Henry, of the Dunbar

Mrs. Curtis Reluctant To 'Accept Confession'

NORFOLK, Va., May 18.—(AP)—Mrs. John Hughes Curtis apparently had no inkling that her husband had constructed the story of his "negotiations."

"I talked with John at 6:30 o'clock Monday night," she told friends, "and at that time he said he was at the Lindbergh home and they had asked him to remain over several days to do what he could to help. He was cheerful and apparently all right then."

Curtis said she could not believe the "confession" because she herself handled some of the telephone calls to her husband.

Mrs. Curtis was said to be in a highly nervous state today. She has been under the care of a physician for a month or more.

SENATE SWAMPS BEER PROPOSALS, TAXES 'MAKINGS'

Chamber Turns to Tariff After Beating Revenue Raiser, 61 to 24, and Levying on Wort, Malt.

By Francis M. Stephenson.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The billion-dollar tax bill was firmly closed today by the senate against beer, malt and wine.

The beer proposals, which the first test since national prohibition, were defeated by a vote of either 2.75 or 4 per cent beer as a means of financing a $1,000,000,000 public construction bond issue.

The beer proposals were offered as amendments to the tax bill by Senators Bingham, republican, Connecticut, and Tydings, democrat, Maryland.

Both the republicans and democratic leaders—Watson and Robinson, respectively—voted against the beer amendments.

Reaching the tariff provision—oil, coal, copper and lumber—the members debated for hours as leaders took careful notes. Retention of all four items was predicated at adjournment tonight with a vote due tomorrow.

The beer debate was brief and to the point. The roll call showed the votes 60 to 23 against 4 per cent beer and 61 to 24 against 2.75 per cent.

The Volstead act limits alcoholic content to one-half of 1 per cent.

Oil Tariff Issue.

Scenes reminiscent of the old tariff fight of 1929 and 1930 were re-enacted as the first of the import taxes—that on oil—was voted.

Log rolling was manifest as cliques of senators formed on the floor and counted noses and to all appearances the oil trades on the various tariff proposals.

Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, led the oil tariff fight with a proposal to raise the rate from one-half cent to 1 cent a gallon on crude petroleum imports.

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, conceding he was opposed to the oil tariff, proposed that the rate be made one-fourth of a mill a gallon.

Opening debate, Connally asserted, "The treasury is in a desperate straits. The rate on oil is one of the largest importers of this foreign oil."

Mr. Mellon, one of all his immediate group have fought an excise tax on crude petroleum all these years.

The treasury's need of the amount the tariff would yield "were not fairly made," Connally asserted, predicting the oil tax would yield $30,000,000 annually revenue instead of the $5,000,000 estimated by the treasury.

"The issue," he said, "is whether that $30,000,000 is going into the treasury of the United States or into the treasuries of the four great oil companies importing foreign oil."

Connally said the opposition to the oil tariff came from the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, which owns the Pan-American Petroleum Company; the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey; the Dutch Shell Company; the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey; the Dutch Shell Company; and the Gulf Oil Company, Mr. Mellon's company.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the republican leader, convinced that retention of the oil tariff was essential.

'Wet' Organization's Essay Contest Expected To Attract 500 Entrants

Statewide interest in the essay contest being conducted by the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform is shown by the large and varied number of entrants being received at headquarters of the state division, Mrs. William T. Healey, Georgia chairman, said Wednesday. "As our contest draws to a close it appears certain that there will be almost 500 essays to be read and judged," Mrs. Healey said. "These are from nearly every section of the state and from men, women and children." The contest rules provide that the essay writers must give what they believe to be the 10 best reasons for repeal of the national prohibition law. Each essay is not to exceed 200 words and must be at Mrs. Healey's office in the Healey building not later than noon Saturday. Three cash prizes are being offered to the winners—the first, $25; the second, $15, and the third, $10. The contest is being conducted in conjunction with Mrs. Healey's organization's observance of National Repeal Week, which will be climaxed here with a rally for foes of the dry law at the City Auditorium on the night of May 25. Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor and chairman of labor's committee working for modification of the Volstead act, will be among the speakers at the rally.

Judges announced for the contest are Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution; Reuben R. Arnold, well-known lawyer, and James L. Dickey, Atlanta insurance man. Winners of the contest are to be announced at the meeting at the auditorium.

HIGH FEDERAL COSTS HIT BY L. & N. HEAD

Present Situation Barrier to Better Times, Says W. R. Cole.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—High governmental costs were cited tonight by W. R. Cole, president of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, as a main barrier to better times. In a radio address under the auspices of the American Tarapaya League, Inc., Cole said: "In my opinion, one of the chief, if not the chief, deterrent to a resumption of a reasonable degree of prosperity in this country is the failure, up to this time, to liquidate the high cost of government, despite the liquidation of values and incomes to which every citizen has been subjected. "Until this situation is fully realized and a universal and insistent demand, regardless of selfish interest, made to congress and upon the various state legislatures to remedy it, its baneful influence will undoubtedly be indefinitely prolonged. "It is unthinkable that this extravagance in the cost of government should continue in the face of the economic crisis which the country is facing."

taxes levied on trucks and buses using state roads, and restrict the vehicles as to size and load; that the association go on record as being opposed to the tax act for the classification of intangibles coming before the next assembly; that the association commend and urge the citizens of the state to participate in the biennial celebration of the colonizing of Georgia which will begin February 12, 1935.

A resolution was passed giving a vote of thanks to the Fulton county officials and the press for their hospitality and aid.

The association accepted the invitation of A. J. Lippitt, of Albany, and J. S. Billingsley, mayor of Albany, to hold the 1935 convention in that city. "Taxation becomes a predominant factor in times of depression," said George B. Hamilton, of Atlanta, C. P. A., and a member of the Georgia Society of Public Accountants, who delivered an address on uniform accounting at the meeting. He said that the prime problem was the reduction of taxes, and that a reduction necessitated a reduction of disbursements. "Economy in government" can be effected only by adopting an accounting system and by using an intelligent method of auditing and recording the facts accurately.

An informal open discussion of the problems with which county commissioners are confronted was held, with J. Frank Pittman presiding. The general discussion included reports on various county convict camps and information on how certain counties had reduced taxes. G. B. Bagges, of Camilla, Ga., retiring president of the association, was presented with a silver shield by E. M. Davis, of Camilla, Ga., county attorney for Mitchell county, as a gift from the members of the association. The convention was adjourned at noon Wednesday, concluding a three-day session in Atlanta.

Curtis May Evade Prosecution by U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Meager prospect of federal prosecution of Charles Hughes Curtis, confessed hoaxer in the Lindbergh kidnapping, was seen today at the justice department.

It is up to Paul W. Kear, United States attorney at Norfolk, to take whatever action is possible. There is no present intention to send him directions from here.

It has been suggested that the Curtis confession might be considered as disclosing an attempt to "defraud the government of its functions," an offense covered by the criminal code. It was under this that former Attorney-General Daugherty was indicted and later cleared. It was explained today, however, that although it is good legal theory to claim the code applies in the Curtis case, the chances of conviction appear slender.

Showers Forecast For Atlanta Today

Light showers are slated for Atlanta's weather men today, if indications of Wednesday carry out their promise, according to C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist. A slight drop in the temperature also is on the cards. The mercury reading Wednesday showed a minimum temperature of 64 degrees and a maximum of 76. This morning the lowest reading should be about 60 degrees and the maximum this afternoon about 74 degrees, it was forecast.

KENTUCKY EVIDENCE SOUGHT BY CUTTING

Senator Invites Kentuckian,
Dudley Field Malone, Others To Testify.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Chairman Cutting of the senate committee considering a resolution to investigate conditions in the Kentucky coal fields today sent T. J. Asher Jr., of Pineville, Ky., a blanket invitation for him and other residents of the area to testify.

Cutting also invited Dudley Field Malone and Arthur Garfield Hays, leaders of the American Civil Liberty Union group that sought unsuccessful

Carolinian Reported Kidnaped in China

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The American consulate general cabled the state department today that so-called communist bands captured two foreigners at Chengyangkuan, China, several days ago, one of whom was reported to be an American, W. W. Moore, of Charlotte, N. C.

Moore is reported to have escaped and is apparently safe, so the consulate general reported. He is believed to be Wilson W. Moore, of Charlotte, N. C., who registered at the American consulate general at Hankow on November 4, 1930.

Chengyangkuan is about 125 miles west of Nanking.

KENTUCKIAN REPORTS AUTOMOBILE BLASTED

PINEVILLE, Ky., May 18.—(AP)—Milt Harbin, an active member of the United Mine Workers of America, reported to authorities today his automobile was dynamited last night and that five men narrowly escaped injury in the blast. Harbin intimated that labor troubles may have caused the dynamiting.

TENNESSEAN IS HELD IN NEW YORK MURDER

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—Gill Johnson, 35, who gave his address as 2227 Madison avenue, Knoxville, Tenn., and his occupation as marine cook, was under arrest today charged with homicide in the death of Mrs. Margaret Mackin, 33, mother of two children.

Mrs. Mackin was reported to have been visiting at her house last night and that she retired leaving the two in conversation.

Johnson was captured after a short chase. He told police he had been drinking and remembered nothing of the slaying.

WILKERSON DEMANDS PRESS SUPPORT LAWS

Chicago Judge Says Opposition to Statutes Has No Place in America.

CHICAGO, May 18.—(AP)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today called upon the press to help end the "disrespect for law" asserting the courts and public officers were powerless without the backing of a "strong, awakened public sentiment."

Judge Wilkerson, who sentenced "Scarface" Al Capone and other gangsters to prison and who has been nominated for elevation to the federal circuit bench, spoke at a meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association.

"We hear a great deal," he said, "about the right of invasion against unjust laws, about nullification of laws which never should have been passed. That doctrine has no right in this republic."

"The laws against liquor and narcotics," Judge Wilkerson continued, "have opened great fields in which enormous profits are to be reaped through violation of law."

It was customary, he said, to look to the courts and public officers for enforcement of law, but Judge Wilkerson asserted "alone they are powerless."

"This condition of disrespect for law will not disappear until back of the courts and the officers is a strong, awakened, public sentiment."

"If this work of heavy responsibility falls upon the press," he said, "it is a leader of public opinion. The press should take an unswerving position for the enforcement of laws so long as they remain on the statute books."

"If we have enacted unjust laws, let us set about the work of correction in an orderly way. But let us recognize that obedience to law is the basic condition without which popular government can not endure."

GOV. ROOSEVELT NEARS MAJORITY

was re-elected state chairman by acclamation.

Asserting that he "talked to Governor Roosevelt yesterday and today," Sapp, state chairman, was warmly applauded when he said:

"I give you my word if Roosevelt is elected South Carolina will be recognized as she has never been recognized by any democratic president before."

Making a flying trip from Washington to advocate the Roosevelt cause, Senator James F. Byrnes, said "Let's say to the bosses in some of the eastern states they can't balk the will of a majority of the democrats of America. Nothing could be more deadly than a repetition of Madison Square Garden."

Eight delegates at large with a half vote each, were named. The other delegates were elected by districts.

The delegates at large are: United States Senators Smith and Byrnes, Governor Blackwood, State Chairman Sapp, David R. Coker, of Hartsville; Mrs. Julian D. Dusenbury, of Florence; Burnett H. Maybank, of Charleston, and Mrs. A. Foster McKissick, of Greenville.

VERMONT DELEGATES
AGREE ON ROOSEVELT
BURLINGTON, Vt., May 18.—(AP) Vermont democrats today chose 12 delegates to the democratic national convention who, in private session, later unanimously voted themselves on record as favoring the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York. The Vermont delegation has eight votes.

The convention also unanimously adopted a resolution favoring repeal of the eighteenth amendment and an immediate modification of the Volstead act to legalize the sale of light wines and beers until repeal might be effected.

It was voted to adopt the unit rule as the controlling scheme in all matters. Of the 12 delegates to the national convention, four of these are entitled to cast a full vote and the remainder a half vote each.

SOUTH CAROLINIANS NAME
DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES
COLUMBIA, S. C., May 18.—(AP) George Bell Timmerman, of Lexington, was elected temporary chairman of the state democratic convention today over the Farmers' and Taxpayers' League candidate, B. W. Crouch, of Saluda. The vote was 202-1-2 to 144-1-2.

Claud N. Sapp, of Columbia, was re-elected chairman of the executive committee by acclamation.

In his keynote speech Timmerman attacked the republican party, asserting the "American people are in revolt against existing conditions," which he said were the result of republican policies.

Eight delegates-at-large, each having half a vote in the Chicago convention, were named. They were United States Senators Smith and Byrnes, Governor Blackwood, and Claude N. Sapp, Mrs. Julian D. Dusenbury, of Florence; David R. Coker, of Hartsville; Burnett H. Maybank, mayor of Charleston, and Mrs. A. Foster McKissick, of Greenville.

Governor Blackwood was elected national committeeman.

NEW JERSEY'S 36 VOTES
ASSURED FOR SMITH
TRENTON, N. J., May 18.—(AP)—The 36 votes of the New Jersey delegation to the democratic national convention were assured to Alfred E. Smith on the first ballot at least as a result of the statewide primaries. The only candidate on the presidential preference ballot was Joseph I. France, of Maryland.

United States Senator W. Warren Barbour, who is filling the unexpired term of the late Dwight W. Morrow, was unopposed for nomination for the full term. Democrats nominated Representative Percy R. Stewart, of Plainfield.

VERMONT REPUBLICANS
DEMAND RESUBMISSION
MONTPELIER, Vt., May 18.—(AP) The Vermont republican convention today adopted a platform demanding submission of the prohibition question to the people of the United States and demanding "immediate and drastic reduction" of the "appalling expense of government."

ATROCITIES CHARGED TO LIBERIAN TROOPS

GENEVA, May 18.—(AP)—The burning alive of many men, women and children by the Liberian frontier military force was reported to the League of Nations today in a communication signed in behalf of the American, British and French governments.

These atrocities, the report asserted, were committed against tribesmen of the Kru coast.

The Liberian delegate submitted a memorandum to the League's Librarian commission confirming the burning of 44 villages and the killing of 81 men, 49 women and 29 children.

SENATE SWAMPS BEER PROPOSALS, TAXES "MAKINGS"

The tariff provisions was the best way to speed the bill, conducted numerous conferences and polls.

The decisions on the tariff rates will be close, perhaps settled by a margin of one or two votes, but the advocates confidently claimed the margin at nightfall.

In the brief lull between voting on the beer proposal and the resumption of debate on the much disputed tariffs in the bill, the senate approved new taxes on brewer's wort and malt and a levy on grape concentrates.

The levy of brewer's wort was raised from the 5 cents a gallon voted by the house to 15 cents. Liquid malt, malt syrup and malt extract, fluid or solid, were taxed at 3 cents a pound.

The tax on grape concentrates was put at 20 cents a gallon, as voted by the committee, with articles sold as soft drinks or incapable of fermentation exempted.

The two parties divided almost evenly on the two roll beer calls.

Twelve democrats and 12 republicans voted for 2.75 beer, while 32 republicans and 29 democrats opposed it. The two roll calls showed shifts.

Senators Moses, of New Hampshire, and Reed, of Pennsylvania, both republicans, voted for 4 per cent beer and then against 2.75 per cent brew.

Senators Cutting, New Mexico, and Shortridge, California, both republicans, enrolled against 4 per cent beer but supported 2.75.

Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, did not vote on the 4 per cent roll call, but supported the 2.75 per cent proposal.

Crowds Await Vote.

The chamber was jammed as the hour for the vote arrived. A host of members of the house, which will vote on beer next week, lined the rear of the room. The galleries were filled.

The beer debate was led by Tydings and Sheppard. The Maryland anti-prohibitionist contended that 2.75 beer was the solution to a vexing unemployment problem facing the nation.

Unless beer is authorized and used to finance public construction, he said, the government would have to resort to a "dole" by next winter.

Senator Sheppard, surrounded by inquiring anti-prohibitionists, held the floor for half the debate, contending 2.75 beer would mean the destruction of the prohibition laws and nullification of the constitution.

Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, a prohibitionist, concluded the debate with a condemnation of President Hoover's Wickersham commission, which he said was "morally derelict" in its duty in not going on record as to what constitutes intoxicating beverages.

Until some agency of responsibility has fixed the limit, Glass said he was going to vote against all proposals to raise the limit above the limit of 1 per cent of alcohol fixed by the Volstead act.

Roll Call.

The senate roll call on 2.75 per cent beer follows:

For: Republicans, Barbour, Bingham, Blaine, Cutting, Davis, Glenn, Long, La Follette, Metcalf, Oddie, Shortridge and Walcott—12.

Democrats: Broussard, Bulow, Coolidge, Copeland, Hawes, Lewis, Long, Pittman, Rogers, Wagner, Walsh, of Massachusetts, and Wheeler—12.

Total 24.

Republicans: Austin, Borah, Brookhart, Capper, Carey, Couzens, Dickinson, Fess, Frazier, Goldsborough, Hale, Hastings, Hatfield, Howell, Johnson, Jones, Keyes, McNary, Moses, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Patterson, Reed, Robinson, of Indiana; Smoot, Steiwer, Thomas, of Idaho; Townsend, Vandenberg, Watson and White—32.

Democrats: Ashurst, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Bratton, Caraway,

COHEN, CONNALLY, COITZMAN, DILL, FLETCHER, GEORGE, GLASS, HARRISON, HAYDEN, HULL, KENDRICK, KING, LOGAN, MCGILL, MORRISON, NEELY, ROBINSON, OF ARKANSAS; SHEPPARD, SMITH, STE- PHENS, THOMAS, OF OKLAHOMA; TRAM- MELL AND WALSH, OF MONTANA—20.

Total 61.

There was so much disorder at the conclusion of the vote on the Tydings amendment, as spectators in the gallery and members of the house on the floor fled out, that Vice President Curtis had to rap for several minutes to obtain quiet.

Over in the house a vote will be had Monday on whether the O'Connor-Hull bill to levy a tax of 3 cents a pint on beer of 2.75 per cent alcohol content by volume will be taken up for consideration.

Indications are the vote will be heavier than that on the Cullen beer amendment to the revenue bill, which was defeated, 216 to 132. Exactly 145 members signed a petition to discharge the house ways and means committee from consideration of the O'Connor-Hull bill. About 30 more have indicated they will vote for it.

The Beck-Lathrop resolution for a constitutional amendment calling for state control of liquor, also brought to a vote on petition of 145 members, was defeated earlier by a house vote of 227 to 187.

Georgia Business Improving, Say Bankers, Meeting Here

Executive Council of Georgia Bankers' Association Gathers, Hears Optimistic Reports From Members.

That business conditions point to a gradual but steady improvement is the judgment of speakers who addressed the executive council of the Georgia Bankers' Association at luncheon Wednesday at the Capital City Club.

This opinion was shared by Robert F. Maddox, chairman of the executive committee of the First National bank; H. Lane Young, vice president and executive manager of the Citizens & Southern National bank; John M. Graham, president of the National City bank of Rome; Ronald Ransom, vice president of the Fulton National bank; W. Stuart Wilkins Jr., president and trust officer of the Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Company; and R. E. Gormley, superintendent of Georgia state banks. The views of these men were endorsed by President W. S. Elliott, vice president and cashier of the Bank of Canton, who presided.

Mr. Maddox spoke of the unsettled legislative matters of the country as a deterrent to improvement of general business conditions and his opinion found its echo in the assertions of the other speakers, who referred to the economic condition.

"I believe," Mr. Maddox asserted, "that just as soon as congress adjourns and other legislative bodies have settled their affairs, the country will be able better to adjust itself and take inventory of where it stands. With the legislative muddle and confusion out of the way we can then look forward with more certainty and greater clarity to the problem of facing the future.

"It is this great uncertainty over proposed federal legislation, which will affect business, banking and industry generally, as well as taxation, that is holding this back."

Farm Situation Better.

Definite results in the efforts of the State Bankers' Association, co-operating with the State College of Agriculture, for the establishment of farm product depots and conditioning plants were reported by Professor J. Phil Campbell, director of extension.

In this report it was revealed that Emanuel county commissioners already have built a cannery at Swainsboro and are operating it two days a week. It also was reported by Professor Campbell that the Atlanta market, which is capable of absorbing the surplus food products raised in Georgia, already is receiving large quantities of beans from the southern portion of the state, and that the cabbage and sweet potato market is likewise active at the present time.

Cotton acreage in Georgia will be nearly equal this year to that in 1931, a result of the present season, John M. Graham, of Rome; H. G. Langford, of Meansville, and C. Findley Irwin, of Sandersville, said that fertilizer consumption would be from 50 to 75 per cent of last year's.

At the business session of the executive council in the morning, standing association committees and the chairmen for 1932-33 were appointed by President Elliott, and the bankers' agricultural program for the coming year was discussed.

Tribute was paid Dr. Benjamin W. Hunt, of Eatonton, one of the state's distinguished bankers and a former president of the state bankers' association, on the occasion of his 85th birthday anniversary, and a telegram of congratulations was sent him.

Standing Committees Named.

Standing association committees and their chairmen were announced by President Elliott at this time as follows:

Bank management committee: Ronald Ransom, vice president Fulton National bank, Atlanta, chairman; W. S. Elliott, vice president and cashier, Bank of Canton, Canton; Walter N. Harrison, vice president and cashier, First National bank, LaVonia; Haynes McFadden, secretary of the Georgia Bankers' Association; J. B. Dodd, vice president, Griffin Banking Company, Griffin; C. A. Whitaker, vice president, Bayley State bank, Bayley; F. M. D. Smith, vice president, Granite City bank, Elberton; J. E. Carnes, cashier, Bank of Acworth, Acworth; T. J. Ball, president, People's Savings bank, Thomasville; H. G. Langford, cashier, Bank of Meansville, Meansville.

Legislative: John M. Graham, president, National City bank, Rome, chairman; Ronald Ransom, vice president, Fulton National bank, Atlanta; R. L. McClain, president, Pickens County bank, Jasper; C. H. Neider, president, Citizens State bank, Reynolds; M. K. Hunter, president, First National Bank & Trust Company, Macon.

Agricultural: H. G. Langford, cashier, Bank of Meansville, chairman; M. L. Lee, cashier, Moultrie Banking Company, Moultrie; R. F. Fowler, cashier, Citizens bank, Warrenton; N. A. Thomason, cashier, Etowah bank, Canton; B. H. McLeod, vice president, Bank of Tifton, Tifton.

Educational: A. G. Maxwell, vice president, Citizens & Southern National bank, Atlanta, chairman; J. S. Peters, vice president, Bank of Manchester, Manchester; J. W. McWorter, president, People's Bank of Winder; Winder; C. F. Crisp, cashier, Bank of Commerce, Americus; J. T. Holland, vice president, Commercial bank, Thomasville.

NEGRO G. O. P. CHIEFS TO 'CARRY ON' FIGHT

Determination to "carry on" was expressed here Wednesday by B. F. Cofer, negro, secretary of the faction of the republican party in Georgia, which is backing Mamie Williams, negro, of Savannah, for re-election as republican national committeewoman.

The administration-recognized republican organization of the state made clear its intention to leave Mamie Williams out of the national committee by failing to endorse her at the March convention. They plan to select a white woman for the place.

Opposing the republican state central committee set up recognized by the Washington administration, a faction met in Macon last week and elected 16 delegates to the national convention in Chicago and endorsed Mamie Williams for re-election. They also nominated H. H. Nichols, of Albany, a white man, for national committeeman. This place is now held by Captain J. W. Arnold, of Athens. The March convention endorsed Captain Arnold for re-election and instructed the Chicago delegation to that end.

The Macon convention delegates say they will carry their fight first before the national committee, which meets in Chicago June 7, to make up the temporary roll of the convention.

3 CANDIDATES QUALIFY IN COUNTY CAMPAIGN

Only three candidates Wednesday had qualified for the eight local positions on which Fulton county voters will cast ballots in state primary September 14, it was announced by Hewitt Chambers, secretary of the county democratic executive committee.

Judge Eugene D. Thomas, of Fulton county superior court; Robert C. W. Ramo, congressman from the fifth Georgia district, and George A. Eckford, one of the three members of the house from Fulton, are the only qualified candidates. All are incumbents.

Although there have been several announced aspirants, they have not yet qualified, and Chambers warned that noon, June 3, is the dead line for qualifying.

In addition to the three in which there already are qualified candidates the following other positions must be filled:

Judge superior court to succeed Judge Gus H. Howard, solicitor-general Fulton circuit, to succeed John A. Boykin, state senator from the thirty-fifth Georgia district, two legislative posts to succeed Luther Still and William G. McRae.

INSECT POWDER USED IN COOKING KILLS ONE

TAMPA, Fla., May 18.—(P)—A steak cooked in insect powder in the belief it was flour caused the death of one member of a family and critical illness of another here last night.

William H. Mein, 67, who prepared the meal for his family's dinner, died a few hours after eating of it. His son, Claude H. Mein, 34, was taken to a hospital in serious condition. The son's wife, who ate little of the steak, was unharmed.

U. S. RESERVE BANKS SEEK TO AID INDUSTRY

Meyer Discloses Plans in Opposing Goldsborough, Fletcher Bills.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(P)—From the 12 federal reserve banks of the country, aggressive efforts are to be launched to make available more generally in loans to industry and agriculture the funds piled up in commercial banks by the federal reserve board's open market policy.

This decision was disclosed before the senate banking committee today by Governor Eugene Meyer, of the reserve board during testimony in opposition to the Goldsborough and Fletcher bills under which the board would be directed to restore the 1926 price level by purchasing government bonds.

Senator Costigan, democrat, Colorado, asked Meyer whether the policy of buying government securities on the open market has had any effect as yet on the wholesale commodity price level.

Governor Meyer replied he thought it had.

"In our meeting yesterday with the governors of the 12 federal reserve banks, we discussed the wholesale commodity price level and ways and means of making more effective the open market policy in bringing to industry, agriculture, construction and the like the results aimed at."

"I think the governors are going back to their respective communities to endeavor more aggressively to bring this about."

The hearing also produced an emphatic denial by Governor Meyer that there is any chance of the United States going off the gold standard.

Meyer said passage of the Goldsborough measure by the house was very disturbing and added that to fulfill the mandate of the bill would

Miss Mary Hutchins will finish the four-year course at that time and eight students will receive certificates for completing three years' work.

SURVIVOR OF CRASH HOVERS NEAR DEATH

Miss Ida Lou Davis, who was injured Monday in a grade-crossing crash at Red Oak that took the lives of her mother, sister and brother, remained in a serious condition at Piedmont hospital Wednesday, according to attaches. Miss Davis, who was at the wheel of the car, drove directly in front of an approaching train, witnesses stated. The car and its occupants were dragged for more than 100 yards.

A triple funeral was held Wednesday morning for Mrs. R. A. Davis, of Red Oak; her daughter, Miss Mary Davis, 17, and her 5-year-old son, Harold, who lost their lives in the wreck, at the Shadnor Baptist church in Union City. The Rev. J. R. Burrell, the Rev. J. C. Harbin, the Rev. J. H. Knight and the Rev. Y. A. Brown officiated and the burial was held in the churchyard. They are survived by R. A. Davis, husband and father, and three other children, Horace, Maudie Ruth and Virginia Davis.

be beyond the power of the board and would "establish a rigidity which is undesirable."

Adolph C. Miller, a member of the federal reserve board, also testified against the bill.

The bill was endorsed briefly by W. C. Hushing, legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor.

Treasury Announces New 91-Day Issue

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(P)—Secretary Mills announced today that the treasury would sell $50,000,000 in 91-day treasury bills on Monday, May 22.

The bills, which will be dated May 22, and mature August 24, will be redeemed at their face value on the latter date. The money received from the sale of the bills will be used to retire $62,000,000 in treasury bills which fall due on May 25.

April Safest Month For Trolleys, Coaches

Operating an average distance of 7,338 miles an accident, Atlanta street cars and coaches during April enjoyed the safest month in the history of their operation, officials of the Georgia Power Company announced Wednesday. By accident the company means any incident of operation occurring on or near a street car line, whether the operator is at fault or not.

Figures compiled by the power company show that the April record represented an improvement of 40 per cent over the record for the same month last year and an improvement of 17 per cent over the record for July, 1930, hitherto the safest month for Atlanta street cars.

DO YOU INHALE?

cigarette advertising generally avoids this question?

ONE of the mysteries in cigarette advertising has been the apparent fear of the word "inhale." It seems rather foolish—for everybody inhales—whether they realize it or not... every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because when you smoke Luckies your delicate membranes get the protection no other cigarette affords. All other methods have been made old-fashioned by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So truly this message is for you.

DRIVE IS LAUNCHED FOR HEAVY BALLOT

Warren Warns That Only Big Vote Will Keep Reactionaries Out.

Warning that unless the "every-day citizen" of Atlanta casts his ballot in the forthcoming primary next Wednesday for the "best qualified candidate" the municipal government may be expected to be filled with reactionaries and kept inefficient and top heavy, Y. P. Warren, chairman of the citizens committee which fought successfully the recall effort against Mayor James L. Key, Wednesday initiated a drive for a heavy vote.

Warren deplored the fact that this is an "off year" in municipal politics and that there are no apparent "issues." He took occasion to warn voters, however, that the "forces which fought Key, which always have fought good government and the best interests of taxpayers and which are committed solely to serve their own special interests are busy and will stop at nothing to sweep their choices into political offices."

"This is a time when all good citizens—the 'every day' citizen—should rush to the defense of good government," Warren said. "Although this is an off year in municipal politics, and apparently there are no issues at stake, I wish to take this opportunity to warn voters of Atlanta that the same forces which sought Key's ouster, which have always fought good, clean, economical and honestly administered government, but which are committed only to serve their own special interests, are extremely active."

"They seek again to drive their wedge into the economical program inaugurated by the Key administration, and will stop at nothing to achieve these results. Unless the army of aroused citizens who thwarted the unfair attack on Atlanta's mayor takes the field again and definitely and firmly spurs the ambitions of this group, we may expect that waste will be continued and that special interests will be served in the council."

"I cannot stress too strongly the need for immediate determination to crush these forces. They have gnawed at the vitals of the taxpayers of Atlanta long enough. It is up to the good citizens of Atlanta to repudiate them again. Every qualified voter should cast his ballot in the interests

AUBURN SENIOR SHOWS COOLNESS IN EJECTING SNAKE

AUBURN, Ala., May 18.—(AP)—The dissertation on the virtues of having a valuable presence of mind in the face of emergencies which Dr. Henry Nelson Snyder, of Spartanburg, S. C., president of Wofford College, gave at Auburn's graduation exercises yesterday, was timely.

As he admonished Auburn seniors along the line of quick thinking and bravery to meet the vicissitudes of the world, a green snake, two feet long, wriggled from under a fern box which decorated the rostrum in Langdon hall within easy reach of the speaker.

A stifled gasp came from the audience and a hush fell over the house. Presently, an Auburn senior quietly picked up the snake and as he walked toward a window it wriggled its writhing coils about his forearm. Tossing it through the window, he calmly resumed his seat and Dr. Snyder continued his address on the virtues of a valuable presence of mind.

Channel Approved.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The house rivers and harbors committee today gave tentative approval to a project for enlarging Rollinson channel, North Carolina, to a six-foot depth by 100 feet wide and 2 miles long, connecting Pamlico sound and Hatteras at a cost of $27,000, with $5,400 annual maintenance.

of good citizenship and to protect himself."

The citizens' committee has been active in the primary and has selected a list of candidate from those qualified from whom it believes will best serve Atlantians as follows:

For council: R. H. Cobb, first ward; Max Cuba, second ward; Homer Hannah, third ward; Claude Barwell, sixth ward; Raleigh Drennon, ninth ward; Nelson Spratt, tenth ward; George B. Lyle, eleventh ward; Walter Sutton, twelfth ward, and Frank Wilson, thirteenth.

For alderman: W. W. Waites, sixth ward. For school board: R. J. Guinn, ninth ward; Ernest Brower, tenth ward, and George C. Garner, twelfth ward. For city electrician: Carroll McLaughery. For city warden: J. Newton Landers.

Plea of Atlanta Youth for Peace Between All Nations Voiced at Program Commemorating First Hague Meeting

STUDENTS ORGANIZE TO AID NIX CAMPAIGN

ATHENS, Ga., May 18.—A student's "Nix-for-governor" club was organized on the University of Georgia campus tonight. Phil McDuffie, Atlanta, was named president. The purpose of the organization, which is to be statewide and composed of students of all Georgia colleges, is to sponsor the candidacy of Abit Nix, Athens attorney, in his race for governor.

Other officers chosen were: Valco Lyle, Athens, first vice president; Ed Barham, Blakely, second vice president; Red Caldwell, Atlanta, treasurer; and Turner M. Hiers, publicity director.

Every section of the state was represented at the initial meeting and chairmen were named for each county from now until the end of the campaign.

President McDuffie stated that he wished it known that this was an entirely independent organization and not connected with the University of Georgia or any other political group.

Eager to advance the cause of international good will, school students shown above with their banners Wednesday attended a Christian Council program at the Y. W. C. A. A message of brotherly love and sympathetic understanding was delivered by Professor William A. Sutton, Atlanta's superintendent of schools (right), shown below with Dr. W. T. McElveen, who presided. Staff photos by George Cornett.

Atlanta's plea for year-around observance of that friendly Christmas slogan, "Peace on earth and good will toward man," Wednesday went out to all peoples on the globe.

Talks expressing this city's sincere amity toward fellow humans of every race and creed sped over radio waves after youths from various colleges and schools joined in an international good-will day program, sponsored by the Christian Council, at the Young Women's Christian Association.

The occasion was the thirty-third anniversary of the first Hague conference. From the platform at the Y. W. C. A., Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta schools, pleaded for sympathetic understanding and love for fellow beings, and predicted that "if you will get acquainted with your neighbor, you will find that he is just as good as you are."

Repetition each year of the good-will program was indicated when, in response to a query by Dr. W. T. McElveen, pastor of the Congregational Christian church, the audience at the Y. W. C. A. unanimously declared that it had had a good time and wants to come back again for a similar program.

Dr. McElveen conveyed the keen and lively interest in the meeting of Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. Rabbi David Marx, of the Hebrew Benevolent congregation, offered the benediction for the gathering.

Radio addresses from WSB were received in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium after Dr. McElveen's meeting was concluded. The radio program opened with a prayer for international peace by Dr. D. P. McGeechey, of Decatur, president of the Christian Council. Speakers were introduced by James Morton, secretary of the council, who also read good-will messages from young people of England, Canada, Wales, Ireland of Jersey, Austria, Denmark, India, Formosa, Locarno, Poland and Norway.

"In this age it is the 'go-getter,' said Roy LeCraw, president of the Chamber of Commerce, in a radio talk. "One must be willing to make sacrifices and to give oneself of time and effort to civic and other public matters which will promote the general welfare of all, rather than the personal gain of the individual."

W. A. Dobson, Atlanta Boy Scout executive, said that the world is crying for new men for this, a new age. "We are the world's next-door neighbor," Mr. Dobson said. "But the smaller the world becomes, the greater the world's leaders must become. Our leadership must be world-minded."

Miss Frances King, regional director of the Girl Scouts, said that the success of all international effort is based on intelligent co-operation, and so is the success of all good scouting. "The principles of the good, the true and the beautiful are the same the world over, and that international fellowship may be achieved in reality as it now is in dreams," Miss King said.

Mrs. J. N. McEachern, speaking on behalf of Atlanta's womanhood, said that the "task of the generation is not to make people want peace. That is already done. The task is to make them believe that peace can be achieved. The world has become a neighborhood, and we will have world peace when we accept and practice the neighborly principles laid down by the Prince of Peace."

Mrs. E. Marvin Underwood, president of the Y. W. C. A.; William J. Hammond, president of the Kiwanis Club, and the Rev. B. Frank Pim, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, aided in the program at the Y. W. C. A. Reception of the radio program at the Y. W. C. A. was made possible through the courtesy of I. Gloer Bailey, of the Myers-Dickson Furniture Company, chairman of the young people's committee of the Christian Council.

HUNDREDS HOMELESS AFTER QUEBEC FIRES

QUEBEC, May 18.—(AP)—Several villages and farmsteads were in ashes today, leaving hundreds homeless in the wake of forest fires sweeping through the parched woodlands of the lower St. Lawrence valley.

Flames which ran along the banks of the Metis river left the families of 150 settlers without shelter at Massac.

The village of Val Alain, 40 miles from Quebec, a community of 35 buildings, was reported to have been wiped out. The flames were checked before they reached the nearby communities of Joly and Henri River.

TARIFF GROUP CHIEF OPPOSES INCREASES

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Robert L. O'Brien, chairman of the tariff commission, told the house ways and means committee today that enactment of the Hawley bill to adjust tariff rates upward against nations with depreciated currency "would be a great mistake."

"I think the theory that a nation increases its productive capacity by debasing its currency is a fallacy," O'Brien testified.

"If cheapening the currency would cheapen production costs every nation in the world should rush in to debase its money, but the whole history of the world shows that debasing currency does not increase productive capacity."

"I think a great deal could be said for a horizontal increase in the Hawley-Smoot tariff but I think it would be a great mistake for congress to assume that by changing the yard stick of value you change the cost of production."

FLORIDIAN SUCCUMBS TO PISTOL WOUNDS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 18.—(AP)—A bullet wound, received during an altercation with Farley Johns, 45, and his son, Claude, 18, near Glen St. Mary Saturday, proved fatal today to Roy Johns, 24.

Roy Johns, a distant relative of the other two men, died in a hospital here of a wound inflicted in the back by a .32 caliber revolver, allegedly by Claude Johns.

Claude Johns was alleged to have drawn a gun and wounded Roy. Claude is being held in the Baker county jail at MacClenny. Authorities said he would be charged with murder.

MRS. WOODWARD TAKEN BY DEATH

Pioneer Writer Was First Woman To Act as War Correspondent.

Mrs. Josephine Miles Woodward, mother of Donald L. Woodward, well known Atlanta, died early Wednesday morning at the residence of her son in the Blackstone apartments after a protracted illness. She was 70 years of age.

Daughter of a noted Indian fighter, and a pioneer newspaperwoman and magazine writer, Mrs. Woodward had lived in Atlanta for the last 12 years. For more than a score of years she had been an invalid, as the result of an injury to her vertebrae caused by a fall which developed serious complications.

Mrs. Woodward enjoyed the distinction of being an active war correspondent in the nineteenth century, when women in the journalistic profession were such a rarity as to make her service on the Cuban battlefields unique. She had taken up newspaper writing in the early 90's in Cincinnati, and became a special feature writer on the staff of the old Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, when the late Murat Halstead was editor. During the Cuban war for independence from Spain—long before the Spanish-American conflict—Mrs. Woodward was sent by her paper to Cuba as correspondent. She penetrated the Spanish lines and spent several months in various parts of the island engaged in interviewing Cuban insur-recto leaders and obtaining intimate glimpses of conditions.

Much of the information she gathered as correspondent was utilized by the United States government in its study of the miserable condition of Cuban concentration and prison camps. Mrs. Woodward also obtained a personal interview with the notorious governor-general of Cuba, General Valeriano (Butcher) Weyler, commander of the Spanish forces and later premier of Spain.

In addition to her war correspondence work Mrs. Woodward also covered many notable news events of her era. She became society editor of the Commercial Gazette and later, until compelled by ill health to retire from active work, she was society editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star, in which paper she also conducted a column of special writing and contribution of verse. She formerly was president of the Ohio Newspaper Women's Association and was active in club work.

Mrs. Woodward was born in Wabash, Ind., and attended Spiceland Quaker Academy for Girls and the University of Kansas. Much of her early life was spent on the western plains, her father, Colonel John D. Miles, having been appointed by President Grant to take charge of the fierce Cheyenne and Arapahoe tribes in the Indian territory soon after the Civil War.

She is survived by two sons, Donald L. Woodward, southern representative of the International Printing Ink Corporation; and Ralph M. Woodward, Cincinnati newspaperman; two brothers, Herbert and James Miles, of Fresno, Cal.; and three sisters, Mrs. Susan Kinsey and Mrs. Eva Pochler, now temporarily residing in Florence, Italy; and Mrs. W. F. March, of Lawrence, Kan. Her husband, O. J. Woodward, died a number of years ago.

Funeral arrangements have been completed. They are in charge of H. M. Patterson & Son, and announcement will be made later of definite time and place of services. Burial will be in Lawrence, Kan.

A. L. POOLE PETITION IN HUMPHRIES' HANDS

Petition of A. Lamar Poole, suspended first assistant chief of police and chief of detectives, for mandamus and injunction in his fight against ouster Wednesday was taken under consideration by Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, after hearing a demurrer and answer filed by the police committee of council. Judge Humphries indicated that he will hand down a decision within the next few days.

Poole's petition was argued by Attorney James A. Branch, and City Attorney James L. Mayson represented the police committee. The committee contends that the original charges against Poole are no longer in existence and that the committee could not be compelled to try Poole on charges which have been withdrawn. New charges have been filed, being the same as the withdrawn charges, and the committee is ready to hear Poole on the new charges, it was said. Poole contends that if he is forced to trial under the new charges, he will be in double jeopardy.

DEMOCRATIC BODY TO CONSIDER PLAN TO ABOLISH BOARD

Dr. Samuel Green, chairman of the city democratic committee, announced Wednesday that a meeting of the sub-committee will be held within the next few days to consider a proposal to seek a citywide referendum on abolition of the present board of education and substitution of a board of seven.

At the same time general interest in the forthcoming primary which will be held next Wednesday was revived by scheduling of several meetings for various candidates.

There are only three citywide races and 13 council members are to be re-named.

Edward W. Smith, opposing Councilman Raleigh Drennon, of the ninth ward, suggested the new board in a letter to Dr. Green. He proposed that the city be divided into half a dozen zones with one board member to be selected from each of the zones and the seventh member to be appointed by the mayor.

A rally in the interest of J. Marvin Sweet, candidate for council from the twelfth ward, is slated for 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Kirkwood school.

Approval of any change in school operation in the primary would have no binding effect, but would be merely an expression of the sentiment of the voters, it was explained.

ADVERTISERS TO GIVE PLAY ON THURSDAY

"It Slays to Advertise," a one-act play dealing humorously and sympathetically with problems of advertising, will be given on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Rick's tea room by the advertising fraternity of Atlanta.

The play will be preceded by a dinner, both featuring the spring membership campaign of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association. A large gathering of advertising men and women is assured.

Key To Move Class To Rialto Theater

Coinciding with the closing this week of the Capitol theater, Ben L. Brooks, president of the inter-denominational class taught by Mayor James L. Key, prepared Tuesday to remove the class from the Capitol to the Rialto theater.

Brooks and the mayor expressed their thanks to the management of the Capitol for their "fine spirit of co-operation and to the Rialto for their generous offer to house the class."

The class will begin at 9:30 o'clock at the Rialto Sunday morning and Brooks extended "an invitation to Atlanta to attend."

CRACKERS SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER WITH MEMPHIS

Johnny Morrison Hurls
Great Ball in Last
Game of Bill.

Former Grid Star To Join Crackers

EVANSTON, Ill., May 18.—(AP)—Bobby Jones has a baseball protegee. At the urgent request of the retired emperor of golf, Larry Cliphant, former Northwestern baseball and football star, today signed a contract to play with the Atlanta club of the Southern league, which Bobby is associated. He plans to report June 5.

Cliphant was captain and first baseman of Northwestern baseball team in 1931 and one of the best fielders and hitters in college baseball.

By Jimmy Jones.

Jughaudie Johnny Morrison, the genial gent from Old Kaintuck, came up with some superb pitching in the gathering dusk yesterday at Ponce de Leon park and while he was letting the Chicks have only three hits, little Bobby Goff set the batting pace with a home run and a triple, enabling the Crackers to salvage the second game of the double-header, 3 to 1, and gain an even break on the series.

The Chicks took the first game, 10 to 6, in spite of the fact that the Crackers batted Big Jim Edwards from the box in the eighth inning when they scored all their runs. The first affair undoubtedly would have ended much closer for that six-run rally made the score 7-6, but the Chicks pushed over three more runs after two were out in the ninth to pull out by a handsome margin.

HALVE SERIES.

By gaining a split in yesterday's twin bill, the Crackers managed to halve the four-game series with Prothro's hard-hitting club and get a nice start-off to the series with Harry Strohm's Little Rock Travelers who come here today to finish out the week.

This afternoon's game will start at 3 o'clock and Andy Messenger will hurl for the Crackers. The game that bounced into the left-field stands in the third inning was the only run the Chicks were able to muster off Morrison. The curve ball wizard, who seemed to have dipped his right arm into the fountain of youth this year, had the Chicks popping them up into the air and grounding out.

A dark, glooming sky and a slight breeze at his back made Morrison all the more effective. He struck out four men and did not walk a single batter. The Crackers played a fine game, behind him, too, with Goff figuring in all the runs. In the first, Red Barron led off with a single to center, Goff sacrificed him to second from Struck out by Morrison in 10th.

The shooter settles his feet, throws the gun to his shoulder, levels it at the center of the roof over the traps, cries "Pull" and waits for the fraction of a second until the clay pigeon comes swirling out of obscurity into the light—going fast and at an angle which is unknown until the angle is in the process of being made.

No other sport offers the very definite individualism of trap shooting. It demands more concentration than golf. It makes golf look like a safe and sound game. Because in golf a player may make one or two, or even three, bad shots on one hole and still get his par.

But once the gun has roared the clay pigeon is either "dead" or "lost." There is no second chance. The shooter either hits or misses and each shot counts.

Mark Arie's shooting in the Georgia state championship on the opening day yesterday at the Capitol Gun Club was an example. Arie is 50 years old. He doesn't look it. Years of living out of doors, years of standing in the wind and sun, have kept him young despite the terrific strain to which his nerves are subjected week after week.

The roaring gun in his own hands and the closeness of others is enough to leave a man a bit shaky. But Arie, after a quarter of a century of shooting, is still nerveless.

He is a bit fat, entirely lacking in temperament, jolly, easy to approach—the most human of the great stars offered to the public by a wide variety of sports which build up heroes for the public's cheers.

He stood in the shifting wind of a May day Wednesday and broke 99 targets from 16 yards and 97 from 23 yards. And then moved on to smash 59 out of 60 in a wind which was growing more gusty and uncertain as the sun died away and evening came on.

Never, in his frequent appearances at Atlanta's traps, has Arie shown any nerves. I asked him Wednesday if he ever had any.

"Sure," he said, "just before I came here. This is the best shooting I've done in a month. A short time ago I was breaking 91 and 92 in a shoot. I wondered if age had finally got me. I wondered if I'd lost all my timing."

"And then I moved to another shoot and got a 97. I felt better. It is all a matter of confidence. One swings into the timing of shooting. If it happens to be gone one is lost."

They call Arie "The Babe Ruth" of the trap game. And I guess he is. He is shooting with an old gun he bought about 19 years ago for a sum less than $30. He has fired more than 200,000 shells with it. And can still smash them.

Arthur Cascadan, popular Tampa professional, told a story of how Arie's antique gun was slipped away from him at Pinehurst some years ago. The shooter took it out behind a building, put up some newspapers, and fired some shells to see what sort of pattern the gun made.

The report was terrible. The pattern showed some holes that a goat could be thrown through. And yet Arie is out there most every day smashing his 99 or his 97. And now and then getting his 100.

A GREAT SQUAD TO SEE.

There was a great squad shooting in the Freeman handicap Wednesday. Two men scratched from this particular squad. And left were Joe Hiestand, of Hillsboro, Ohio; Arie, of Champagne, Ill., and Bart Lewis, of Auburn, Ill.

They were an interesting trio. Arie, at 50, is the greatest handicap shot of them all. Bart Lewis was three times international champion. He still holds the world's record for doubles at the Grand American, having broken 192 out of 200 at the difficult doubles. That isn't the best score. A score of 198 has been made. But not at the Grand American, where it counts. The other scores were something like the scores Bobby Jones' rivals used to make in tournaments other than the national amateur and open. They used to make sensational scores here and there but when they faced Bobby in the tournaments where it counted they couldn't do it. And so Bart Lewis' 192 in the Grand American is a real record.

The third member was Joe Hiestand. He is but 25 years old. Like Andrews, former handicap champion, was sitting in the clubhouse after the shoot talking with Arie.

"Mark," he said, "it won't be long before that kid is giving us all we can handle." "My goodness, he's doing it right now."

Arie sees Hiestand as a champion within the next year or two. "He studies the game. He has only a few things to learn and then he'll be beating us all," he said.

And Hiestand was gratified at being second to Arie. "Well, you gave the best of them all a great fight," said someone at the clubhouse. "That's the way I feel about it," he said with a grin. "I'm glad to be second to Arie."

Bart Lewis could be shooting as well as he did in his prime years ago, according to Mark Arie, if he would only consent to get glasses. "He isn't handsome," said Arie as Lewis listened, "but he won't get those glasses. We all have to come to it, even if it does spoil our looks."

THE NIGHT SHOOT.

There is to be a night shoot tonight. And for those interested in the spectacular the shoot can be recommended. The clay pigeons, gleaming white in the glow of the lights, swirl out against a black background and suddenly disappear as the shots strike them.

It is as if some invisible hand had suddenly reached out of the darkness and crushed them to powder. Add to this the red fire from the guns and you have a very pretty sight.

They seem to be shooting at the lights of Atlanta which may be seen in a few of the tall buildings that thrust themselves above the hills beyond. It's a brave sight—really.

ARIE IS LEADER ON FIRST DAY OF SHOOT HERE

Illinois Veteran Wins 200-Target Novelty and Freeman Handicap.

By Ralph McGill.

Mark Arie's magic at the traps was enough to sweep the field Wednesday in the opening day of the Georgia state championship trap shoot at the Capitol Gun Club.

The veteran from Illinois won the 200-target novelty event in a shoot-off with Joe Hiestand, young star from Indiana, and then went on to win the Freeman handicap of 60 targets, shot in honor of Homer Freeman, veteran Atlanta shooter, with a fine 59, Hiestand following close with a 58.

Arie had a run of 70 in his first 100 for his long run of the day. In the Freeman handicap of 60 targets, one for each of Homer Freeman's 60 years, Arie dropped his 47th target and then went on to get the rest of them for a fine 59.

CHIEF FOE.

Arie's chief opponent proved to be a 25-year-old entry from Ohio, Joe Hiestand. They were tied at the end of the 200-target novelty shoot, the last 100 being handicap targets, the handicap being based on performance in the first 100.

They agreed to let the shoot-off be the 60 targets in the Freeman handicap. Hiestand missed his fifth target and trailed until Arie dropped his 47th. Shortly afterward Hiestand dropped another and Arie went on to bang his way out for a 50 and the money.

Shooting conditions were rather adverse. The skyline was a dark gray because of rain clouds. And the wind, which blew in varying currents, caused the targets to do some funny things in the air.

The events leading to Arie's missed target in the Freeman handicap were interesting. The clay birds came out at an unknown angle. Perhaps the most difficult of all are those which leave the trap straight ahead, going up at a speed which is most difficult to judge. When a wind is added to them they become all the more trying.

THREE IN ROW.

Arie got three of them in succession straight out ahead. He almost missed the first one, shooting under it. He got the second one, but it almost squarely, but the third failed to rise as expected and Arie missed it. It was a great day at the Capitol Gun Club. It saw most of the major trap stars of the nation in action. Ike Andrews, Paul Earle, Ed Flynn and a host of others were there.

It so happened that Arie and Hiestand distanced the field by a small number of targets but enough to leave them as the features of the day. The crowd, which was all the more attracted by the given to golf. It is "an humbling game." And today should find some new leaders out in front.

The Thursday program includes the 200 target class championship, with the shooters divided into four classes. A. E. Hiestand, D. according to their 1931 records.

DOUBLES.

The amateur doubles championship of Georgia will be decided in the afternoon. And a night shoot of 50 targets will complete the day, that shoot being scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Both Arie and Hiestand will Wednesday even though they were not in the money. One of the features of the excellent shooting by Mrs. Dilard Jacobs, who shot a 55 in the 60 target Freeman handicap. This gave her fifth place in a field of 22.

Homer Freeman was shot in the effort to win the handicap hearing his name. He scored a 51, the high wind proving too much for him.

The shooting between Arie and Hiestand in the Freeman handicap was a decidedly exciting event. Both were shooting with a great deal of care. The pigeons were smashed to bits. Both were hitting hard. Hiestand began to hurry a bit on the last 20 and dropped the target which defeated him.

A large gallery was on hand to see the opening day's shoot. No admission is charged to the shoot. Today's events will see a larger field entered and additional interest is supplied by the doubles competition, always a feature.

Scores in the 200-target shoot follow: Mark Arie, Ill., 99; Joe Hiestand, Ohio, 98; Paul Earle, Ohio, 97; Dilard Jacobs, Ill., 55; Harry Johnson, Ill., 54; Harry Johnson, Ill., 53; Harry Johnson, Ill., 52; Harry Johnson, Ill., 51; Harry Johnson, Ill., 50; Harry Johnson, Ill., 49; Harry Johnson, Ill., 48; Harry Johnson, Ill., 47; Harry Johnson, Ill., 46; Harry Johnson, Ill., 45; Harry Johnson, Ill., 44; Harry Johnson, Ill., 43; Harry Johnson, Ill., 42; Harry Johnson, Ill., 41; Harry Johnson, Ill., 40; Harry Johnson, Ill., 39; Harry Johnson, Ill., 38; Harry Johnson, Ill., 37; Harry Johnson, Ill., 36; Harry Johnson, Ill., 35; Harry Johnson, Ill., 34; Harry Johnson, Ill., 33; Harry Johnson, Ill., 32; Harry Johnson, Ill., 31; Harry Johnson, Ill., 30; Harry Johnson, Ill., 29; Harry Johnson, Ill., 28; Harry Johnson, Ill., 27; Harry Johnson, Ill., 26; Harry Johnson, Ill., 25; Harry Johnson, Ill., 24; Harry Johnson, Ill., 23; Harry Johnson, Ill., 22; Harry Johnson, Ill., 21; Harry Johnson, Ill., 20; Harry Johnson, Ill., 19; Harry Johnson, Ill., 18; Harry Johnson, Ill., 17; Harry Johnson, Ill., 16; Harry Johnson, Ill., 15; Harry Johnson, Ill., 14; Harry Johnson, Ill., 13; Harry Johnson, Ill., 12; Harry Johnson, Ill., 11; Harry Johnson, Ill., 10; Harry Johnson, Ill., 9; Harry Johnson, Ill., 8; Harry Johnson, Ill., 7; Harry Johnson, Ill., 6; Harry Johnson, Ill., 5; Harry Johnson, Ill., 4; Harry Johnson, Ill., 3; Harry Johnson, Ill., 2; Harry Johnson, Ill., 1.

Walker Probers Seek Bond Transfer Record

NEW YORK, May 18.—(P)—Records of J. A. Sisto & Co., which would disclose the transfer of 35 bonds valued at more than $25,000 to Major James J. Walker by J. A. Sisto, a broker, in November, 1929, are missing from the files of the brokerage house, Samuel Seabury, counsel to the Hofstadter legislative committee, disclosed today at the resumption of public hearings by the committee.

William R. Derby, who was a partner in the brokerage firm during 1929, testified that the records are "unavailable" and said that he knew nothing about the transaction at the time it took place.

Derby pointed out that the affairs of J. A. Sisto & Co. were handled by the Irving Trust Company, as receiver, from September 30 to December 31, 1931, following the suspension of the firm by the New York Stock Exchange. He said that the records involving the bonds given to the mayor or were missing when the Irving Trust Company returned the files. He was not able to say, however, that the records were not missing before all the files were turned over to the Irving Trust Company.

TRUCK LOAD OF VETS EXCITES WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(P)—A truck load of travel weary war veterans, seeking new bonus legislation, today caused a flurry of excitement in the White House and the hurried assembly of an added police guard around President Hoover's offices.

While the veterans were still miles from the executive mansion, a telephone call to police headquarters reported a group of "democratic reservists" was headed in that direction.

A flash was broadcast to radio-equipped police automobiles. A similar call was sent to police headquarters reported a group of "democratic reservists" was headed in that direction.

A flash was broadcast to radio-equipped police automobiles. A similar call was sent to police headquarters reported a group of "democratic reservists" was headed in that direction.

Far from Demonstrating, however, the 25 veterans who had driven from Chattanooga, Tenn., as members of the Post 1289, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, merely parked their truck in Executive avenue and chatted with police and newspapermen.

Smilingly they asserted they would not go back to Chattanooga "until we get our bonus money."

They made no effort to see the president, an outspoken opponent of additional bonus legislation at this time. Spokesmen for the group said they would come back later when they had more regular appointment.

The truck carried banners declaring plainly to pedestrians a block or more distance that "We want our bonus." It was further decorated with the names of Representative Patman, of Texas, and other bonus advocates inscribed with chalk.

One of the veterans explained they had to "clean up a little" after their journey, before "seeing some of the boys in congress about our bonus."

Within a few minutes they left the White House and proceeded to carry out this program.

Dance Program To Be Given This Afternoon

An artistic dance program will be given this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Erlanger theater by pupils of Sarah Wagstaff Rogers for the benefit of the Birdie Wardlaw Brace fund of the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. The dance recital is sponsored by the Scottish Rite hospital auxiliary of which Mrs. Joel Chandler Harris Jr., is president, who extends an invitation to all friends of the organization and hospital to attend the performance this afternoon and assist in raising funds for this worthy cause.

The dances arranged for this program have special artistic significance, since all of the numbers were actually created in the Sarah Wagstaff Rogers studio either by the teacher or by the pupils, who are taught to create for themselves as they advance from basic forms of the art to inspirational compositions. Thus, the dancers will express a great variety of subjects, suited to the various ages and temperaments of their exponents. There will be a ballet giving a day with the fairies from early dawn through to twilight and finally the spirit of night. Mechanical dolls come to life in a very different number; five babies have a Chinese tea party in a third; there is also a number in plasticine done with tiny children.

Tickets for this afternoon's program are on sale at the box office of the theater, reserved seats being 50 cents and $1. The top gallery admission is 10 cents.

Atlanta Horse Show And Polo Game Interest Society

FORT McPHERSON, Ga., May 18. With the Atlanta Horse Show being held next Friday and Saturday at Piedmont park, and the benefit polo game between the sixth cavalry and the Fort McPHERSON squad being played Sunday, May 22, at the polo field, both military and civilian social contingents are truly sport-minded. The horse show will assemble the pick of the government horses, and private mounts will vie for honors. Four army posts will be represented in the entries and the best riders will compete.

In the boxes will be representative members of the army and civilian social contingents. Major General Edward L. King, chairman of the executive board of the horse show, and Mrs. King will be interested spectators and will be accompanied by a group of guests. From Fort Benning will come riding enthusiasts to participate in the classes or to watch the mounted events. The brilliant horse show hall, which will be given Friday evening at the Atlanta Athletic Club, will assemble several hundred members of society.

The polo game to be played Sunday afternoon at the post between the Fort McPHERSON squad and the sixth cavalry team from Fort Oglethorpe will be a benefit performance sponsored by the Young Matrons' Circle of the Service Star Legion. The salute will be received by Major General Edward L. King and the referees will be Lieutenant Wesley Moran and P. D. Christian, of the Governor's Horse Guards and well-known polo players. The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock on the post polo field, opposite Officers' row at thearrison, and the price of admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. The players have recently completed the corps area tournament, which was held at Fort Benning, and since the two squads met in the finals with the Fort McPHERSON squad winning by a one-goal margin, the game Sunday will be replete with interest. The proceeds of the game will be used to further the welfare work of the Young Matrons' Service Star Legion.

Mrs. Mueller Presents "Hour of Music."

"An Hour of Music" was presented by Mrs. Kurt Mueller Thursday at Eggleston hall. This is an annual event in music circles of the city, and the large audience proved the growing appreciation for the classic program of French, German, English and Italian music. The progress of the pupils since last year was marked. The versatile, sympathetic accompaniments were played by Mrs. Mueller. The Atlanta Philharmonic String quartet, composed of Miss Ruth Dabney Smith, first violin; Miss Rose Thompson, second violin; Miss Anna Mueller, violin; and Thomas Hutcheson, cello, played Minuetto, from Quartetto No. 5, Op. 64, of Haydn, and Allegro, from Quartetto No. 6, Op. 18, of Beethoven, with excellent ensemble and spirit.

Mrs. Fleming Wincoff was second and Mrs. Joel Hunt, Mrs. Philip L'Engle and Mrs. Charles Rawson tied for third place. A novel arrangement was a miniature log cabin with one side of the garden adorned with flowers, evergreens and vegetables, and the other side left bare. A cleverly worded little verse requested donations from the several hundred guests for the purchase of garden seeds for the needy in order that they might make gardens during the coming months.

Gentry, who was a beloved past regent of this organization, yesterday afternoon at Habersham hall on Fifteenth street. Mrs. W. F. Dykes, first state vice regent, D. A. Gentry; her mother, Mrs. Mary Thornton; her son, S. P. Gentry; a grandson, Norman Gentry; a choice of 25 voices, a vocal trio, Mrs. Gentry, Shakespeare must have envisioned her life when he wrote 'To be, or not to be, that is the question, whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, or to take arms against a sea of troubles, and by opposing, end them.' Truly 'well done thou good and faithful servant, enter into the joy of thy lord.'"

Miss Abbott Weds Mr. Smithwick At Al Fresco Ceremony in Marietta

MARIETTA, Ga., May 18.—The marriage of Miss Mary Linder Abbott, second daughter of Mrs. Joe Abbott, of Marietta, and Clinton Thomas Smithwick, was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler on Church street extension, cousins of the bride. The rites took place on the lawn, with Dr. J. H. Patton, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Marietta, officiating. Preceding the ceremony Miss Lucy Bailey played the "Lohengrin" wedding march.

The bride's only attendant and maid of honor was her sister, Miss Katherine Abbott, who was gowning in green embroidered organdie, made along princess lines, and the waistline was marked with a pink taffeta sash, and she wore a white picture hat, white slippers and carried pink roses.

Little Frances Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Harris, of Marietta, was flower girl and wore a brook of golden yellow taffeta made with short waistline, the skirt scalloped at the bottom. Her frock was trimmed with circles of flowers in pastel shades and she wore an orchid hair bow, orchid box and white shoes. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay in pastel shades and was carried in a lace folder.

Joe Abbott, small brother of the bride, was ring-bearer and wore a yellow suit of silk poplin.

The lovely bride was given in marriage by Mr. Fowler and she was gowning in pink-embroidered mousseline-de-soie fashioned ankle length with hip ruffles; the sleeves were puffed, and the waistline was marked by a blue taffeta sash. Her hat was of pink silk braid with touches of blue and pink; she wore white slippers and her flowers were sweetheart roses. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, John McCollum, of Marietta.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler entertained with an informal reception and were assisted by Mrs. Abbott, mother of the bride. Mrs. Fowler wore flowered georgette and Mrs. Abbott white chiffon.

Mr. and Mrs. Smithwick left by motor for Florida and upon their return will make their home in Marietta, where Mr. Smithwick holds a responsible position with the Marietta Journal. Mr. Smithwick traveled in a suit of dark blue crepe, blue straw hat with accessories to match.

Sudden Love

By ELIZABETH SANXAY HOLDING

SYNOPSIS.

Esme Sully spends her forlorn young existence between the office, where she is an inefficient typist, and a dismal home. Mrs. Sully loves her three children blindly, but is unable to help them spiritually or physically. Cynthia, the oldest, has had a tragedy in her life. Lew, a year older than Esme, has had little from life. Esme can barely remember the days before her father's death when they had had a cheerful home. Jimmy, Considine forces Lew to introduce him to Esme. Lew warns Esme she'll make trouble unless she keeps away from Jimmy.

INSTALLMENT IV.

"You mean, Lew . . . you mean there might be serious trouble?" He glanced at her scornfully and turned away, sat on the table, his slight shoulders hunched—his miserable, stormy eyes upon the ground. She spoke to him but he did not answer. She tried to stroke his hair but he jerked away his head.

"You're hungry, aren't you, Lew dear?" she asked, with tears running down her cheeks. "I'll get you something to eat."

"Give me a cup of coffee," he said. She set the pot on the stove and got out a half loaf of bread. Lew in jail . . . tramping round and round a walled yard, sitting in a cell, his head in his hands.

"Lew . . . I'll see . . . Lew don't, don't do anything until I see if I can get it."

"I thought maybe you could get it at the office," he said with an assumption of carelessness. "Well, you can let me know tomorrow at dinner time."

"But I won't," she began, and stopped, and thought. She knew very well that there was no chance at all of her getting $50 at the office, but perhaps at that party? Perhaps Mrs. Morelli would lend it to her, or suppose there were an artist who wanted her to sit for him and would pay in advance? "I shan't be home to dinner, Lew," she said. "I'm going to a party."

"With that damned Considine?" he said, fiercely.

"No. Some other people, Lew. So that if I don't get it at the office I think some one there—"

"A woman?" he answered. "I'll be home quite early, my darling Lew. A little after eight. It's just a cocktail party."

"Look here," he said. "You haven't any business to go to a cocktail party. You'll drink. You'll meet some fellow—"

"You know I'm not horrible like that, Lew," she said with simplicity. "We're all—horrible," he said. She poured out the coffee for him and watched him drink a cup.

"Lew, I'll do everything I can to get the money."

"I wish to God I'd never asked you," he said, and left her. Lew in jail, Lew in a cell, with his dark head bowed in his hands.

"He's never had a chance!" Esme cried to herself over and over, lying beside Cynthia in the dark. "He's not bad. He's only careless and wild."

He had turned to her, for who else was there in that household? Not Cynthia, the tragic, deserted by her husband, not able to sell any of her drawings and too discouraged to try much any more. Not Mrs. Sully, who loved her children so blindly, and never could help them. Of all that sorry family, Esme, the youngest; Esme, the dazed and gentle child, was the strongest; strong in fortitude, in love, in charity.

"I've got to wet it for Lew," she thought, and fell asleep.

She was afraid even to ask at the office for an advance.

"Because, suppose I lost my job," she thought. "And Lew's probably lost his already. Then there wouldn't be any one making anything."

So she went through the day as best she could. She had not distinguished herself in her job. She was very polite and willing, but she was always a little uncertain. She did not know the things the other girls in the office knew. They seemed to her immensely more confident, mature, intelligent. She was ashamed to hear them talk of plays they had seen, of shops, restaurants, a whole world unknown to her. They were all better dressed than she; they all had money for little things, for perfumes, stockings, magazines, and she never had a penny. She thought:

"They'd know. Miss Bartram would know how to get this money—if I could ask her."

But she could not; Miss Bartram knew Lew in prison! Lew with handcuffs on his wrists, dogged, sullen, desperate.

"I could get it from Jimmy," she thought. But not until every other resource had been tried in vain would she turn to Jimmy.

If Lew went to prison, how could she go on working? How could she live? Her dear Lew, who had been so kind, so helpful, who had had the flu, reading out loud to her, tiding the disordered room—Lew, who loved her, who she loved him! Had he been so kind to her when she had been so kind to him?

Miss Bartram had spoken scornfully more than once of clock watchers, so Esme held back her work to make it last until ten minutes after five. Then she began her preparations for the party in the washroom after the other girls had gone home. She had borrowed $20 from the bank and had experimented with the rouge in it, but it was not successful, and she rubbed it off hastily. She was not at all satisfied with her hair when she had finished, but she could do no more, and she set off, heavily because of her dear Lew and the appalling prospect of borrowing money, yet a little excited.

Mrs. Morelli's house was reassuring, modest, a little old house on Bank street, with a row light in the curtain front window.

"Perhaps it's rather wonderful," she thought. She ran up the steps and was about to ring the bell when the door was opened by a man in overcoat and hat. "O!" said Esme, in her polite little voice. "Excuse me, but this is Mrs. Morelli's house, isn't it?"

"It is," he answered, soberly, and as he entered he closed the door behind him and tried to help her off with her coat, his fingers caught in it, there was a struggle that embarrassed her profoundly.

"Thank you," she said, vehemently, looking up at this man in a coat with a smile of anxious appreciation. He regarded her thoughtfully.

"My name's Twining," he said. "About Twining."

"O! Mine's Esme Sully."

There was a silence, during which Twining deliberately took off his overcoat and hung it up on the rack. Esme covered her face with her hands. He was a big, burly fellow of 30 or so, with black blue eyes, a little reddish mustache, and a face without expression.

"He was just leaving," she thought. "Did he come back—is he staying—just on my account?"

But he was so solid, so mature, it was impossible for her to imagine what he thought or felt.

"He looks like a policeman," she thought. "A nice policeman, but a policeman, the way he put his hand under her elbow and led her into the room beside them. It was crowded with people and excited sort of chattering filled the air. Helen Morelli, talking to a man at the other side of the room, waved her hand airily to Esme. Otherwise no one paid any attention to her. Except Twining.

Culbertson on Contract

Deception in Bidding.

By ELY CULBERTSON.
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

A sound principle in Contract bidding is to bid enough to encourage your partner to continue with safety and yet not completely reveal every strong point and every unguarded feature of your hand to your opponents. Occasionally, Contract players observe every letter of the law and yet writes himself down a loser in the play. This is often because his bidding is always an open book to his opponents, even though it is also crystal clear to his partner. This is not an argument for the coarse, bluff bids, which some people regard as psychic. Bold bidding and, at times, overbidding may be dictated by the necessities of defense.

Today's hand recounts now Miss Louise Morgan Sparrow, who plays at the Cavendish Club, in New York, and her partner combined boldness with slight overbidding and thus prevented opponents from contracting for a game, but were doubled in a game South—Dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

1—South's hand contains 6 playing tricks. It is possible that 9 tricks are available to the North and South partnership. Eleven tricks appear impossible on the bidding.

2—Proceeding cautiously in view of the fact that the North hand is a 4-3-3-3, South's bid of 2♣ is a bold bid, which had much to do with the success of the eventual contract.

3—East wishes to be assured of a heart lead.

4—South realizes that the no-trump contract is impossible.

5—West places the minor diamond menace in the South hand on the bidding, and thus reasons that he holds 2 to 3 tricks and that his partner's should count for enough to make the set of the spades fully as profitable as the defeat of the no-trump contract.

In the play, East opened the heart King, which was won by the Ace in Dummy. The heart was returned, and East won and led a club to "kill" this suit before the Doublers' trump stopper had been removed. North won the club trick with the Ten and ruffed his losing heart with the Ten in Dummy. West over-ruffed with the Ace of Spades and led a club, hoping to give East a ruff in that suit. Trumps were then led and exhausted, and the Dummy was put in with a club, losing a diamond at the end. Unquestionably, East's plan of campaign was faulty, and West was even more to blame for the unfortunate result.

East's Rebid, vulnerable, of the heart suit can only be predicated upon strength in diamonds, as the situation, as regards clubs, is an open book to the West player. Instead of refusing the club for a mythical ruff, West should have realized that the chance of defeating the contract lay in securing tricks in diamonds before the Declarer had a chance to discard losers in that suit on the established card in Dummy. The situation, from West's standpoint, was no one permitting the use of waiting tactics. East must have diamond strength; otherwise the contract cannot be defeated. Even crediting North with a four-card trump suit, East cannot have more than two trumps, and the remote chance that his lead of the club was a singleton would have prevented West from making sure of a penalty before risking the entire future of the hand on the chance.

TODAY'S POINTER.
The sound principle in bidding is to bid enough to encourage your partner to continue. In the play, the defense should always seek to find some loophole by the superior force of the contracting side may be brought to disaster.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

There is probably no emotion that men and women experience that accounts for so many unhappy thoughts and so many cruel deeds as jealousy. It breeds suspicion and hatred. It fosters meanness and vengeance. It feeds on the heart that harbors it and sucks it dry of the finer emotions that would find lodgement there. It is relentless in its grip and far-reaching in its effects.

Jealousy rears its ugly head in the divorce courts. It sticks out of most of the unhappy in-law relationships. It accounts, in large measure, for the proverbial inability of step-parents to be real parents to step-children and likewise for the proverbial inability of step-children to accept a new wife or husband to the home. It breaks up friendships between young people and poisons the pleasure of friendship between older people. It is not always recognizable either, so often and so cleverly does it masquerade under different guises.

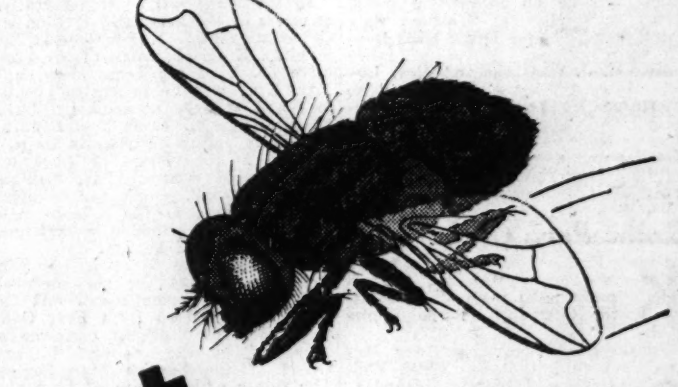

A dog lover tells me that a dog is the most jealous creature in the world. She has two fox terriers and if by chance she speaks to one or expresses any affection for one, the other presents himself immediately for a similar favor and he begs piteously for it, too. So, then like most of the ugly emotions we wrestle with jealousy has an animal origin and the key to its control lies in the mind, which is our point of contact with angels and our point of divergence with animals.

Have you not noticed the first pangs of jealousy making themselves felt in a tiny child? Have you not noticed his resentment of the mother's tenderness toward the newborn baby? It sometimes becomes so acute that he will do bodily harm to the baby if he isn't watched. In that little one's conduct you may see many of the manifestations of jealousy, suspicion and hatred, meanness and vengeance. All of these exhibited before the child has learned to think.

He is only a little animal without restraining and refining influences of a developed mind. His mother has to deal very wisely with him or this deplorable situation will work havoc with his little life.

These men and women have got in this state of mind because they have permitted jealousy to run riot in their lives. They have stepped and avoided collision with it because it was unpleasant to fight it out.

Are you jealous of some rival? Likely love is at stake, for where money and power and material advantage are concerned one feels envy rather than jealousy. Remember this: Nobody ever got affection through jealousy. Nobody ever interfered with one's loving another by being jealous of the lover or the loved. Nobody ever got any satisfaction out of jealousy, whether or not one had cause for it. Nobody was ever able to entertain it without giving some keen or cruel expression to it. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Don't FOOL with FLIES
KILL THEM

WHO can afford to waste time on hopeless, weak methods of chasing flies? It's so simple to fill a spray gun with Black Flag, shoot the clean mist upwards into the air, and then watch flies drop dead. There's a real reason why Black Flag works so surely and quickly. Nature grows a rare flower which produces the precious substance in Black Flag. This is Nature's own insect-killing secret. It's safe, too . . . has no effect on people or pets. Use Black Flag to kill mosquitoes and other bugs.

For crawling insects, like ants, fleas, or bedbugs, Black Flag Powder gives best results because you can leave it in the cracks where they hide. It works the same as the spray.

Every good druggist, grocer, hardware or general store sells Black Flag. It kills quicker . . . and costs no more.

Municipal Rose Garden in Druid Hills Is Open for Inspection This Week

The municipal rose garden occupying a selected spot in the Druid Hills residential section is the object of great interest at the present moment and to members of the Druid Hills Garden Club, which local members of the U. D. C., the D. A. R. and the American Legion auxiliary will be hostesses. Friday morning the business sessions, when all the business of the convention will be transacted and a memorial service given, will be held in the Presbyterian church. The last event of the convention will be a luncheon at Hotel Candler Friday.

They have a garden to offer their friends and to the people of Atlanta which is a source of perpetual interest and beauty; the fact that the garden is located on the Dixie highway is a source of pride to the club members.

It is a regrettable fact that rose bushes have been stolen from the beds and replacements have been made at great expense and the trial garden records are lost each time this occurs. Druid Hills Garden Club appeals to lovers of flowers to help preserve the rose garden and maintain it for the high purpose for which it has been given. One of the main objectives in the planning has been to grow roses which can and will succeed in this particular climate. A trial rose garden involves years of observation, checking and rechecking on the plants, a study of new diseases, soils and growing conditions.

Many aristocrats of the rose family flourish in the Druid Hills Garden Club's rose garden, the varieties being exceedingly colorful at present, and provide opportunity for the study of the relative merits of the specimens. The yellow Hours variety, a Talisman and Margaret Stewart are attracting attention, and the Shot Silk, Brinclair and Butterfly roses are of an exquisite shade of pink, while the red rose variety includes McGredy's Scarlet and Hoosier Beauty. The newer climbers attract admiration for perfection of the individual blossom has been recently achieved, the Los Angeles, Madame Edouard Herriot being among this number.

The Druid Hills Garden Club sponsors a rose show Tuesday, May 24, at the Atlanta Woman's Club. The show will run from 9 o'clock will be observed and admission fee is 25 cents, and the proceeds will be directed to the municipal rose garden in the fashionable Druid Hills section of Atlanta.

Music Club Closes Season With Program

The Atlanta Music Club climaxed a successful season of musical activities with the final program of the season yesterday at the Woman's Club auditorium. This program also closed the regime of Mrs. Walter H. Bellamy, who has served efficiently as president for the past two years, leading the club forward in marked steps of progress, and Miss Helen Coyne Kiley was officially installed as the new president. Expressions of appreciation in gifts of silver and flowers were presented Mrs. Bellamy. The new program chairman were introduced: Mrs. Thad Morrison, chairman of morning musicales, and Mrs. Ruth Rankin Rutherford, chairman of the study course series.

This program being a study course program, based on the last chapter, "Contemporary Composers," of John Tasker Howard's book, "Our American Music," Mrs. Grace Lee Townsend, chairman, opened the discussion with brief notes about present-day composers who were born in Georgia. Miss Mary Douglas, Mrs. J. G. Addy, Miss Hazel Wood and G. F. Gilbreath each gave interesting discussions of contemporary composers and their works.

Songs illustrating the compositions of contemporary composers were interpreted by Mrs. Adolph Hoffman, soprano, in Deems Taylor's "May Day Carol," Pearl Curran's "Dawn" and Mona Zucca's "I Love Life." Mrs. Hoffman showed an understanding of poetic thought in song, while Miss Hazel Wood afforded excellent pianistic background in her accompaniments.

Miss Elizabeth Hopson, pianist, easily won the honors of the program in a dramatic and intelligent reading of MacDowell's "Sonata Eroica." Her second number, in contrast, was "Allegro de concertino," by the Spanish composer, Granados. In both numbers Miss Hopson confirmed her ability as a pianist and her thoroughness as a musician.

Concluding the program, Mrs. DeLoe L. Hill, Georgia's representative on the national board, brought greetings from the recent board meeting of the National Federation in Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Bedard gave interesting statistics summing up evidence of musical development in America.

New 'Hello World' Battle Looms Over KWEA License Renewal Plea

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(P)—

Another row between W. K. Henderson, owner of broadcasting station KWEA at Shreveport, La., and the federal radio commission was in prospect today as the result of a report submitted by Examiner R. H. Hyde.

He recommended that the application for renewal of license of Station KWEA, also owned by Henderson's company, be denied.

The recommendation cannot be effective unless approved by the radio commission.

Henderson's company, the Hello World Broadcasting Corporation, applied for renewal of the license of KWEA, a small station operating with 100-watt power.

W. H. Allen, Eugene Levy and S. B. Pearce applied for permission to construct a new station at Alexandria, La., using part of the facilities assigned to station KWEA and Hello World Corporation, also asked permission to move station KWEA from Shreveport to Baton Rouge.

Examiner Hyde recommended that all of the applications be denied, and if the commission approved this report Station KWEA would be forced off the air.

Hyde said the application of Allen, Levy and Pearce provided little definite information regarding their qualifications, particularly in respect to their financial ability to establish meritorious service.

He said Station KWEA was not operated a sufficient amount of time prior to the renewal application and added that "the Hello World Broadcasting Corporation had not rendered a public service as licensee of Station KWEA during recent months, but on the contrary has turned over its duties and rights as licensee to another party without authority of the commission, the second party undertaking to pay the license $400 a month."

Hyde said this arrangement seemed clearly in violation of the radio law and added, "the record contains no evidence whatever of a public need for the services of Station KWEA."

He said 30.3 per cent of the broadcast facilities of the state of Louisiana, which was 44 per cent over quota in total facilities, were located in Shreveport.

STATE DRUGGISTS CHOOSE OFFICERS

Rountree, of Thomasville, Elected President; Augusta Gets '33 Meeting.

Claude Rountree, of Thomasville, was elected president of the Georgia Pharmaceutical Association at the close of the organization's fifty-seventh annual convention held at the Biltmore hotel Wednesday. Augusta was selected as the convention city for 1933.

Other officers elected included H. L. Chichester, of Macon, first vice president; William T. Knight Jr., of Savannah, second vice president; and M. D. Hodges, of Marietta, third vice president. The secretary is to be selected later by the board of directors.

Dr. R. C. Wilson, dean of the school of pharmacy, University of Georgia, was elected delegate to the American Pharmaceutical Association and J. T. Selman, of Atlanta, was named delegate to the National Association of Registered Druggists. Dr. Wilson is the retiring secretary of the Georgia association, and R. C. Coleman, of Dublin, the retiring president.

Due to the fact that the term of L. C. Waldrop, senior member of the state board of pharmacy, ends this year, Harold M. Herrin, of Winder, was elected to the board which examines all druggists for license in the state. Other members include: Charles H. Evans, of Warrenton; W. T. Edmunds, of Augusta; H. A. Deen, of Vidalia; and J. L. Hawk, of Atlanta.

The 1932 session ended after a

THE WONDERLAND OF OZ

"You see how foolish it is to oppose a woman's will," said the Scarecrow, "and this event proves I am more fit to rule the Emerald City than a Scarecrow. I know you no ill, I assure you, but you should prove troublesome to me. I shall order you all to be destroyed. The Saw-Horse and the Pumpkinhead's body will be chopped for kindling wood and the pumpkin shall be made into pies."

"The Scarecrow will do nicely to start a bonfire, and the tin man can be cut into small pieces and fed to the goats. As for this immense Woggle-Bug—" "Highly Mysterious," interrupted the insect—"I think I will ask the cook to make a turbot soup for him," continued the Queen. The Woggle-Bug shouldered his way out. "This boy," she said, pointing at Tip, "belongs to Old Mombi, and must be returned to her."

This program of extermination was so terrible that the prisoners looked upon one another in a panic of fear. The Scarecrow alone did not wince. He sat quietly and waited, quietly before the Queen, his brow wrinkled in deep thought as he strove to find some way to escape. While thus engaged he felt the straw within his breast move gently. At once his suspicion ceased and his hand he raised and buttoned the front of his jacket.

Suddenly a tiny gray mouse leaped from his bosom to the floor and scampered away between the feet of the girls. The Scarecrow followed, then another and another in rapid succession. A scream of terror went up from the Army of Revolt. The flight that ensued turned into a stampede and the stampede into a panic. In less than time than you can wink, the throne room and palace were deserted by all save a few stragglers.

dance at East Lake Country Club Wednesday night. During the morning session all committee reports complained that the Georgia druggist is overtaxed, carrying a burden of 45 different taxes. The principal speakers were: W. L. Mitchell, of the United States department of commerce, and Senator W. H. Duckworth, who has entered the race for state attorney-general. Senator Duckworth, in a brief address, declared that the Georgia druggist is overtaxed and declared that if he is elected attorney-general he will make all tax decisions comply with the law in every respect.

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—An attorney for Edward B. McLean, whose removal as co-trustee of his father's estate is sought in the District of Columbia supreme court, said today in open court that there was a conspiracy to prevent McLean's return to this country by the threat of a "white slave" charge.

Justice Jennings Bailey, however, overruled the lawyer, Julius Peyer, when he sought to introduce as evidence checks which he said would support his assertions.

Justice Bailey said he could not permit introduction of the material, since it was not relevant.

Attorneys for the three minor children of McLean, who through their mother, Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, are seeking their father's removal as co-trustee, rested their case today.

President Shot, Cashier Kidnaped by Bandits

IPSWICH, S. D., May 18.—(P)—Three robbers held up the Bank of Ipswich today, shot the president, Pita Beebe, perhaps fatally, kidnaped the cashier and fled with an undetermined amount of money.

First reports said the bandits fled in an automobile toward Aberdeen. Police and deputy sheriffs pursued them.

George M. Engler, sheriff of Edmunds county, said Beebe was shot in the abdomen as he lay on the floor after one of the bandits had knocked him down. Other reports said the cashier, Chester Doolittle, had been slugged before being carried away in the bandits' car.

Only two men participated in the actual robbery, Sheriff Engler said, while the other two waited outside in an automobile.

Seven other employees and a customer were forced to lie on the floor, with the threat, "You'll get the same as him" if they disobeyed.
